ABOUT NEL

Allen Marrett Pappoe, known as NEL, is a versatile House and Dance music disk jockey & podcaster from Accra. Having come from a musical background and playing almost every instrument in his high school band, NEL has always known he would do something music related.

Having noticed a gap in the house scene in Ghana, he took up djing and popped on the entertainment scene with popular dj mixtapes from 2016 - 2017 and has built on that foundation.

Through the years, NEL's style and craft have been influenced mainly by his incredible ability to think outside the box and pull inspiration from incredible house djs across the globe that came before him.

Here To Make You Dance

Inspired by Black Coffee, DJ Kent, Kabza De Small and others, Nel pulls off the unthinkable, leaving event goers and his various audiences astonished.

THE NEL PODCAST

NO 1 POD, APPLE PODCASTS - 2019

In 2018, after much success djing and hosting events, NEL started his podcast, THE NEL PODCAST (fka The MC Nel Podcast), to highlight his hosting prowess and have engaging conversations on society and culture. The show garnered a lot of popularity within a short period and eventually became the No. 1 Podcast on Apple Podcasts in 2019.

In its 5th season, the show has subsequently repurposed its focus and NEL seeks to hold engaging conversations with creatives to highlight their stories and journeys.
